

Mr Albert Meintjes | Managing Director and Founder

Beeftech animal track and traceability system integrates with spatial information systems as well as resource management systems and includes the capturing of the animal's unique branding mark, description of animal, gene originality, a digital photograph to the recording of a unique number enhanced by a radio frequency ear tag. All data is recorded and managed in order to report on animal history and monitoring inclusive of veterinary records, origin, breed type and ownership.

www.beeftech.co.za | www.mettrak.com